DEGREES FOR TWO

Georgetown University to Bestow Honors on 122d Commencement.

Two well known Washingtonians will receive the honorary degree of toctor of laws from Georgetown University June 14, on the occasion of the 122d commencement, when more than 500 students, the largest more than 500 students, the largest graduating class in the history of the hilltop will receive their diplomas from President John B. Creeden.

The candidates for the honorary negrees, whom the board of regents have selected, are Gilbert H. Grosvenor, president of the National Geographic Society, and Dr. I. S. Stone, for more than thirty years a member of the Georgetown Medical school faculty. The former will be honored by the university in recognition of his geographic studies, while Dr. Stone has been honored in the past by the Royal Medical society of London for his contributions to medical science.

Edwin Denby, Secretary of the Navy, will deliver the address to the graduates of the college, Law, Medical, Dental and Foreign Service echools commencement day, and a schools commencement day, and a number of distinguished representa-tives of the bench and bar will at-

Georgetown University, were in the habit of attending the annual commencement exercises, and their absence on the forthcoming occasion will be particularly missed by the student body.

Secretary Denby was invited to address the students, because of his as his father, more than half a century ago, was a student at George-town. It was through him that Mr. Denby took a keen personal interest in the college during the many years in the college during the many years he was a member of Congress.

Plans are being made by the student body and the Georgetown Alumni Association for a week of activities in connection with the graduation. Each of the schools is preparing some special program and chief interest centers in the newly organized Foreign Service School, which will graduate its first class that day.

The Alumni Association will meet The Alumni Association will meet especially for the purpose of electing a new member of the board of regents to take the place of the late Anthony
